Czechoslovak 4th Army Stores at DRHOVICE near TABOR

1. History and use of the depot

a) When the 4th Army was set up at TABOR, a new storage depot for arms and ammunition was built about 12 km. West of TABOR, consisting of storage buildings, which were built first, and barracks for the guard company, headquarters and administration. The two installations are separate from one another, and a civilian guard is on duty at the entrance to the barracks. Divisional stores are supplied from this depot.

b) The guard company, which carries out both maintenance and guard duties, numbers 100 - 120.

2. Location

a) The depot is, as stated, about 12 km. West of TABOR, on the North side of the TABOR - PISEK road, about 500 m. West of the outskirts of DRHOVICE. It is situated in a wood and covers an area about 1,000 x 500 m. It cannot be seen from the road.

b) The barracks complex is about 500 m. North of the road and partly visible from it.

3. Layout

50X1-HUM

- 1) Road to barracks and depot, a lane along the edge of the wood
- 2) Barracks, fenced round with wire and separated from the storage area
- 3) Porter's office occupied by a civilian guard who shows visitors to the reception room.
- 4) Reception room, single-storey, about 30 x 10 m., where all visitors, civilian or military, are received.
- 5) Quarters for guard company, three-storeyed, with cookhouse and mess; about 30 x 15m.
- 6) Stores HQ and management, three-storeyed building roughly the same size as (5)
- 7) Garage, about 30 m. long, accommodating about 15 vehicles
- 8) Parade ground, in front of (6)
- 9) Entrance to stores, on the road, with another porter's office
- 10) Stores area, with double fencing
- 11) Storage buildings, about 15 x 30-40 m. placed so as not to be visible from the air.
